

GRIEVANCE COMMITTEE REPORT

On July 10th, the Grievance Committee met at Crofts Hall. A couple of agendas items; were the importance of our timely appeals and communication with our members. The usage of our local 602 shop stewards will elevate and grievance reps will be expected to investigate as well as file grievances if needed. Assignments at times will be given and other times, the union representative should take the initiative to take on assignments in your area. A union representative who is approached by a member specifically should take the lead on that assignment if they have received adequate training.

We still need to recruit more activist and show some solidarity at the university to gain the respect of management and show that we are speaking in numbers as a union and not as individuals.
